U.S. Moves to Deport Harry Bridges; Given 5 Year Term

Ask Immediate Revocation of His Citizenship

Two Aides Sentenced To Two-Years in Jail

San Francisco, April 11—(AP)—The Federal Government moved today for immediate revocation of Harry Bridges' citizenship.

Such action, if successful, would open the way for a federal hearing to deport to Australia the CIO longshore boss, convicted of perjurying himself at his 1945 naturalization hearing by denying he ever was a Communist.

Aides Also Sentenced

For that conviction, Bridges was sentenced yesterday to five years imprisonment. Two labor union aides were given two years for their testimony in his behalf at the citizenship hearing.

The government move to ask revocation of citizenship, scheduled for court hearing today was based on the contention that the revocation was mandatory under the statute governing Bridges' indictment.

The man to decide that is the trial judge, George B. Harris, who said as he passed sentence:

"By lying, cheating and defrauding the United States government, Mr. Harry Bridges was granted a certificate of naturalization. He was aided and abetted by two co-defendants and had bestowed upon him the priceless benefit of citizenship."

"Mr. Bridges' conduct cannot evoke either sympathy or consideration on my part."

Bridges, 48, key figure in paralyzing port strikes on the west coast and Hawaii and twice victor against previous government efforts to deport him, listened in glum silence to the proceedings. He had no comment afterward, in contrast with his charge of "immigration frameup" at the end of his stormy, 81-day trial.

Appeal Planned

His attorneys, both of whom were sentenced for contempt during the bitterly waged trial, said they would vigorously oppose any move to revoke Bridges' citizenship. They also said they would carry appeals to the Supreme Court, if necessary, contending that the trial was conducted on a "political" and even a "patriotic" basis.

Judge Harris, in rejecting a motion for a new trial, denied that "the verdict was the result of hysteria" or that the trial was "an oblique attack on militant trade unions."

Bridges was convicted of perjury.

Chrysler, CIO Union Resume Negotiations

Detroit, April 11—(AP)—After record-length talks Chrysler negotiators went back today to the apparently laborious job of drawing up a $100 monthly pension plan.

Yesterday and last night management and the striking CIO United Auto Workers conferred for 13 hours—longest session of the strike.

Since the last company counter-offer prior to the Easter weekend, no details have leaked out of the huddles. Negotiators are striving for an agreement which will send 89,000 strikers back to work.

Per Capita Share of U. S. Debt Certainly Has Jumped!

Washington, April 11.—(AP)—Ah, it was great to be alive in 1840. That was the year the national debt almost fizzled out, and became a mere 21 cents per capita. Compare this with the present, when it has skyrocketed to $1,695.06, and you'll see how times have changed.

This fiscal intelligence comes to us today from a booklet put out by the senate committee on executive expenditures. The title of the booklet: "Increased Cost of the Federal Government."

It contains a lot of interesting figures.

Such as the fact that until the civil war did the per capita debt amount to much. In 1865 it climbed to $75.01. Then it dropped down to around $12 to $15 per each and stayed there to World War I.

It went up to $242.52 in 1919; dwindled to $131.51 in 1930, and then began creeping up again.

The peak was 1946, when it was $1,907.32 for each man, woman and child.

Adrift on Lake Erie, Four Boy Scouts Die of Exposure

Cleveland, April 11.—(AP)—The bodies of four boys who had drifted overnight on a little rubber raft were taken from the wind-chopped waters of Lake Erie today.

All were pronounced dead.

A coast guard picket boat pulled their bodies off the craft. Crewmen applied artificial respiration while the boat sped for Fairport harbor.

But when it arrived, Coroner W. R. Carle pronounced them dead. They had died of exposure.

They had been swept into the lake at dusk last night as they went after a drifting canoe.

An air-sea rescue force of a dozen planes had conducted a search for them.

Thinly clad in cotton shirts and blue jeans, they had been tossed by waves which were whipped by gusts up to 50 miles an hour.

All four were members of a Boy Scout troop in suburban Euclid.

Charge Sub Carrier With $1,330 Theft

Denville, Ill., April 11—(AP)—Leon Gallagher, 28, of Urbana, a substitute mail carrier at the Champaign postoffice, yesterday pleaded guilty in federal court to a charge of stealing from the mails.

Judge Casper Platt referred the case to probation officers for investigation before passing sentence. An information filed by the government charged Gallagher took $1,330.24 from a registered letter.

Reception Wednesday Night for Dr. Bush

A reception for Dr. Charles K. Bush, Superintendent of The Dixon State Hospital will be held at Murray Hall on the hospital grounds Wednesday night starting at 7:30.

Dr. Bush was recently appointed superintendent of the hospital. Previously he had been acting superintendent.

The public is invited to attend the reception.

Less Than 1,000 at Polls Here by Noon

"Cold winds—light voting" was the description of the Dixon and Lee county primaries at noon today.

The total vote at noon of 11 of 12 precincts in Dixon was less than 1,000. Unofficially, the count was 984.

Rural Vote Light?

A Telegraph survey indicated voting also was light in the county, although many precincts could not be reached because telephone wires still are down from the recent ice storm.

At the last comparable election, April, 1946, the total Lee county vote was 6,381. The GOP drew 4,995 ballots while the Democrats registered 1,386.

Forecasts of rain and snow lent support to predictions that the primary vote through Illinois would be light.

Fewer than 1,500,000 votes are expected from some 5,000,000 voters. In the last four primaries, fewer than 2,000,000 voters picked choices for the November runoffs.

Democrats hoped to roll up at least 550,000 votes in Cook county while the Republicans are counting on 250,000.

Patronage Threat

Democrats expected some gains downstate, principally because they now control the lion's share of the patronage.

The major state primary involves the GOP candidate for U.S. senator, Everett Dirksen, Pekin, is expected to come up with the job of opposing Senator Scott W. Lucas, who is again running for the Democrats without opposition in the primary.

Tax Agitation Now Smoothed

William D. Fricke, county assessment supervisor, told The Telegraph today that the recent rebellion of township supervisors cooled off at a committee meeting Saturday afternoon.

Fricke said he met with Leon Miller, chairman, John Emmitt, Charles Case and Elmer Miller, who will act as the assessment committee for the Lee county board of supervisors.

The assessment supervisor said the committee and the township assessors indicated they would follow his instructions concerning notations on assessment forms when they deviated from established rates.

Hollywood in Rare Tribute to Huston

Hollywood, April 11—(AP)—In a rare tribute, a two minute period of silence will be observed in all movie studios today in respect to the memory of Walter Huston.

Memorial services for the late actor will be held on the stage of the Academy Award Theater today. Huston, generally regarded as one of the greatest of modern actors, died last Friday, the day after his 66th birthday.

Pint-Size Gunman Scoops Up $10,000 in Diamonds

Chicago, April 11.—(AP)—A pint size gunman with a blue steel revolver scooped up $10,000 in diamond rings and $500 in cash at a west side jewelry store last night and carried away his loot in a paper bag.

Ralph Lepack, 42, manager of the store at 4102 West Madison street, said the bandit forced him and two clerks into a washroom while he took the currency from the cash register and the jewelry from the display windows.

Lepack told police that the man took at least 35 of the largest rings in the store.

When the robber entered the store he poked his gun into the back of Wayne Free, 28, a clerk.

"Are you joking or something?" Free asked.

"No, I'm not fooling," the man replied.

The robber finished the job in less than 10 minutes and fled.

Campbell's Successor Causes Considerable Speculation Here

City hall speculation today focused on a possible successor to the late commissioner of finance—George A. Campbell.

According to law, the vacancy must be filled by April 28, thirty days after the opening occurred. Mayor J. Fred Hofmann indicated today that a successor would be named at the council meeting April 25. The mayor, added, however, that no names have been considered as yet.

The following names and figures represent the standing of the men who finished out of the running the last time commissioners were elected, April, 1947:

Carl E. Newman 1,834
John G. Bohnstiel 1,539
John E. Earle 1,261
Glenn (Skip) Camery 1,195

Mr. Bohnstiel died about a year ago.

Newman is disqualified, according to law, because he has since moved out of Dixon.

Earle lives in the same precinct as two other members of the city council, Mayor Hofmann and Commissioner George Lindquist.

Camery, who runs a cafe, has no apparent strikes on him.

Mayors Called To Testify in Racket Probe

Washington, April 11—(AP)—A senate commerce subcommittee agreed today to call mayors of city governments to testify on a bill which would outlaw the interstate transmission of gambling information.

Chairman McFarland (D-Ariz) told reporters the mayors are members of the Attorney General McGrath's conference on law enforcement.

The first public hearing, McFarland said, will open next Monday with McGrath the major witness. The mayors will testify at later dates.

Other witnesses will include representatives of the leading press services which distribute results of horse races and other sports events to newspaper and radios.

McFarland's announcement came in advance of a meeting of the Democratic senate policy committee to discuss procedure in handling investigations of crime and gambling.

The policy group sought to settle a threatened open fight as to whether the inquiries should be conducted by the judiciary committee or commerce group, or both. There were reports of a reluctant agreement among the Democrats to merge the committees for the investigation.

Confusing, Eh?

St. Louis, April 11—(AP)—A ruling in federal court here may mean a lot to people who think their rent is too high.

Judge George H. Moore ruled that even if the rent control board grants an increase, the tenant doesn't have to pay it unless he wants to. He ruled such a raise permissive, not mandatory. The case involved a monthly increase from $30 to $35.50. It is being appealed.

Probers Issue Subpoena for Noted Commie

Ex-Daily Worker Editor To Be Called

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Ex-Communist Louis Budenz was subpoenaed today as the "mystery witness" Senator McCarthy wants senate investigators to hear on his charges against Owen Lattimore.

A senate foreign relations subcommittee ordered Budenz to appear at a public session next Monday.

The committee is looking into McCarthy's accusations that Lattimore is a Soviet espionage agent.

Budenz is former managing editor of the Communist newspaper, The Daily Worker. He renounced Communism and returned to the Catholic church.

"Mystery Witness"

Chairman Tydings (D-Md) told reporters that Budenz is the "mystery witness" that McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, contends can swear that Lattimore is or has been a Communist party member.

Lattimore, Johns Hopkins university professor and some time consultant to the State Department, has denied under oath that he has ever been a Communist. He has called McCarthy an unmitigated liar for making the charge.

Tydings said Lattimore was invited to be present when Budenz testifies. After Budenz is heard, Tydings said, Lattimore will be permitted to testify in reply.

Secret Meeting

The decision to subpoena Budenz, now a college professor, came at a closed door meeting of the subcommittee with all members present. Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the full foreign relations committee also attended.

Lattimore had asked in advance that he be allowed to confront McCarthy's "mystery witness." He also asked that his lawyer be permitted to cross-examine the witness.

The committee did not grant the request for cross-examination. McCarthy has accused Lattimore, far-eastern affairs expert, of being Russia's No. 1 spy in the United States.

Lattimore flatly denied it under oath when he was before the committee last week. He also swore that he never has been a Communist and that he never knowingly promoted the cause of Communism anywhere in the world.

McCarthy disclosed the identity of his mystery witness to committee counsel Morgan yesterday, and he asked Morgan to issue a subpoena for the individual's appearance before the committee.

McCarthy said the witness, with whom he was in touch over the weekend, had agreed to testify under subpoena.

On March 30 McCarthy told the senate the witness had been used by the Justice Department as a government witness in another matter.

"The department has trusted his veracity and publicly indicated confidence in his truthfulness," McCarthy said, adding:

"This man will testify substantially as follows:

"That he (the witness) has been a member of the Communist party for years; and that he was high up in Communist circles; that his party work required that he know members of the party so that he

Morris Adams Defendant in $2,500 Suit

James Wallace, a Wyanette contractor, filed a suit in circuit court today asking for a $2,500 judgment against Morris Adams, 318 Monroe avenue.

Through Warner and Warner, Wallace charged he moved two houses for Adams and that his customer paid him only $400. He said he'd been damaged to the extent of $2,500 by Adams' alleged failure to return his equipment.

Wallace accused Adams of violating a contract by failure to install foundations and to return his equipment.

Wallace asked for a $1 a day for alleged losses in connection with the equipment used in a moving job October 24, 1949.

Rent Control Office Starts Discharging Employees Mostly N.Y.

Washington, April 11—(AP)—The agency which runs the federal rent control program today began widespread firing of employees.

The office of housing expeditor Tighe E. Woods announced that dismissal notices already have been set to some 1,100 workers.

This amounts to a one-fourth reduction in staff and will take effect within two weeks. Most of those given notices are in New York where the state takes over all controls on May 1.

A. & P. Says U.S. Suit Theory Would Cause Economic Chaos

New York, April 11.—(AP)—Striking back at a government anti-trust suit, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company says the justice department's legal theories would upset the nation's whole economic structure.

Denying charges that it is a monopoly, the big food chain said yesterday the public would suffer "irreparable injury" if the company is broken up.

There is "no justification in fact or in law for the drastic and confiscatory destruction" of the chain, the company said in its first formal reply to the civil anti-trust action in U.S. district court.

The 109-page answer accused the government of "asking this court to adopt, by judicial fiat, new and extremist principles of law which would result in complete remodeling of the entire economic structure of the country."

The government suit, filed last September, accuses the company of monopolistic restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

The company described its expansion over 80 years as "natural growth."

Americans Worried About Economic Prospects, But Are Bent on Boom-Buying

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Americans appear somewhat bothered by economic prospects but nevertheless bent on boom buying—something that should help business stay good.

The federal reserve board supplied this estimate. Furthermore, it said people have less hope of general price cuts this year than last, although more than half figure that prices of cars and major household items will come down.

See Record Sales.

A board survey of consumer buying plans pointed to continued record sales of homes and autos this year, more than doubled sales of television sets, and a strong market for furniture, refrigerators, etc.

As to housing, it found more than a million persons "definitely plan to buy new homes this year, but a growing number are determined to pay less than $10,000. About as many more intend to buy in 1951.

On the auto front, there was "preliminary evidence that middle and low income consumers comprise a larger part of the prospective demand in 1950."

Less Costly Cars

Since this referred to prospective buyers of new rather than used cars, it suggested that the auto industry's best sellers are likely to be the less costly models.

The board's survey sought to find how people felt about a good many things. Here are some of the results, as announced by the board last night:

More than half think their incomes will rise this year than they will fall—which is much what people thought a year ago, although drops in income have occurred more frequently in the meanwhile.

Greater Uncertainty

There is greater uncertainty about the business future than there was a year ago. But while there is "less optimism," there also is "somewhat less outright pessimism."

This year, as last, a greater proportion of consumers think their financial situation has improved over the last 12 months than thought so during earlier years, when they were complaining about rising living costs.

Nearly half consider times are good now. But a still larger proportion was willing to say that a year ago "high income groups" feel better about 1950 than the lower income groups.

So far as workers are concerned, more than half think it would be "difficult, if not impossible, to get another job paying about the same amount of money if, for any reason, they were to lose the job which they had at the beginning of this year.

Bank Robber Who 'Just Took' Cash From Cage, Nabbed

St. Louis, April 11—(AP)—A young woman who works in a downtown St. Louis bank took the matter into her own hands yesterday when she saw a man reach through the bars of her cage, which she had left for a moment to go to the washroom.

As a result, what the police received was not an alarm but a man to arrest. Miss Audrey Lorenzen, 27, long on courage and fleet of foot, chased the man out of the bank and into the traffic at the United Bank and Trust Co.

She caught him three times, but each time he got away. Once, she said, she grabbed two bundles of currency from his bulging pockets. They added up to $440 in $5's.

Frank P. Vierling of Pinckneyville, Ill., driving by, saw her trouble, parked his car and joined the chase. The fugitive had ducked into a store. Vierling called police, and by the time they arrived Vierling saw the slippery man on the street again and caught him.

The man gave his name as William R. Evans, 62, of Atlanta, Ga. He denied taking any money from the bank. Bank officials said $1,224 additional was missing, and authorities started searching for a helper to whom it might have been passed.

$22,000 Liquor Hijack Witness Tries Suicide

Memphis, Tenn., April 11—(AP)—Investigators in the shooting of a government witness in a $22,000 liquor hijacking case agree he tried to kill himself.

Sheriff Jimmy Thompson and the FBI yesterday listed the critical wounding of 49-year-old Tom Pearson as an attempted suicide.

Pearson was found Sunday in a shed in back of his home. A .44-caliber bullet had struck him above the left eye and emerged behind his left ear. A gun lay in his lap.

He was on call to testify in the government case against nine men charged with possession of whiskey hijacked near Cairo, Ill., last New Year's eve.

His brother, J. A. Pearson, is one of the defendants. The case was scheduled to go before a federal jury here May 16.

Hospital attendants said Pearson was partially paralyzed by the bullet. He was given a 50-50 chance to live.

Cause Pressure on Heart

Slow digestion causes food to ferment in your stomach. Pockets of gas form (inches of it) and this gas presses upward, crowds against your heart. Then you are in misery.

Hundreds here in Dixon suffered that way until they got CERTA-VIN. This new medicine is taken before meals; thus it works with your food and your food digests FASTER and better, with less gas and bloating, and you get the fullest good out of your meals.

CERTA-VIN contains Ten Great Herbs, plus vitamin B and Iron. Therefore, it not only relieves gas; it also enriches the blood with iron and strengthens the nerves with vitamin B. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get CERTA-VIN—Villiger's Drug Store.

Truman May Settle for Half-a-Loaf

Washington, April 11—(AP)—President Truman gets a report from senate Democratic leaders today indicating he may have to settle for a half-loaf of his "fiscal" program in the present congress.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the majority leader, and Vice President Barkley were invited to a White House conference to bring the president up to date on congress' mid-session schedule. He has just finished a four-week visit at Key West, Fla.

House leaders still on Easter vacation, weren't expected to attend a meeting closing the president's fifth year of dealing with congress since he took office April 12, 1945.

In advance of the session Lucas told a reporter the senate probably will have time to handle only about eight major issues if congress quits July 31, as he hopes it will.

The Illinois senator listed these:

1. Approval of the omnibus money bill now ready for house action.
2. Passage of a foreign aid measure.
3. Approval of a house passed social security bill.
4. Action on an excise tax reduction measure.
5. Extension of rent control.
6. An effort to get action on a fair employment practices commission (FEPC) bill.
7. Approval of a second year's foreign arms aid program.
8. Disposal of a Republican attack on a reorganization order transferring powers of the National Labor Relations Board counsel to the board's chairman.

Lucas didn't say so out his list left out in the April could several major "fair deal" proposals. These included the Brannan Farm Plan, compulsory health insurance, federal aid to education, Taft Hartley repeal, international trade organization charter approval, expansion of unemployment coverage and extension of the military draft.

There seemed some doubt, also, that Truman would find on his desk before congress adjourns the kind of a tax bill he wants or any kind of an FEPC bill.

Liquor, Cigarette Tax Incomes Are Up

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—Income from liquor and cigarette taxes last month more than offset a drop in other tax sources in the state, the State Revenue department announced today.

Acting Revenue Director Ernest C. Marohn said liquor and cigarette tax collections in March jumped $774,000 over the February figures.

The total tax revenue in March from all sources was $22,642,000—$295,000 more than in February, Marohn said.

The sales tax, major revenue source for the state, and motor fuel and public utility taxes, produced a smaller tax yield in March as did the petroleum inspection fees. The combined revenue drop from these four sources last month was about $476,000.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

POLAR EXPLORATION, begun nearly 400 years ago, really boomed during the first half of the Twentieth Century. This scene shows the SS North Star in the Antarctica during one of the expeditions of Admiral Richard E. Byrd, famed explorer of both poles. Both the North and South Poles were first held by a man during the early years of this century. Admiral Richard E. Peary is credited with discovering the North Pole, on April 6, 1909. A rival claimant, Dr. Frederick A. Cook, for a while enjoyed world-wide hero worship on the basis of his claims. He was later discredited and branded as an impostor. Norwegian Roald Amundsen takes credit for having been the first man to see the South Pole, on Dec. 14, 1911. The poles, earth's last frontiers, still tempt explorers.

Mortality Rate In State Holds Steady in 1949

Springfield, Ill., April 11—(AP)—The Illinois mortality rate held steady in 1949 even though 1,108 more persons died than in the preceding year, the State Health department said today.

Deaths from all causes last year totaled 90,971 compared with 89,863 in 1948.

But because the population increased, the death rate remained 10.8 for each 1,000 persons.

Heart disease accounted for 34,713 deaths, more than the next five causes combined. Heart fatalities were first in 1948, when the toll was 33,376.

Cancer killed 13,926 persons, cerebral hemorrhage 7,112, followed in order by accidents, nephritis, diabetes, influenza and pneumonia, tuberculosis, premature birth and arteriosclerosis.

Deaths from nephritis, tuberculosis and cerebral hemorrhage all dropped slightly from 1948.

The infantile paralysis fatality total of 231 was the highest ever recorded in the state. It compares with the previous peak of 171 in 1946 and the toll of 66 in 1948. Two deaths occurred from rabies.

Mount Morris Churches Plan Bible School

Mt. Morris—Plans are being made for the annual daily vacation Bible school sponsored by the Council of Churches General Superintendent will be Mrs. Miriam Baker, assisted by Mrs. Miriam Schaller, organizers' department superintendent.

Mrs. Irene Webster will be primary superintendent, Mrs. Alice McNett, junior superintendent, and Mrs. Stanley Gruhn, intermediate superintendent.

The school is scheduled tentatively for June 5-16 in the grade school building. The theme is "Christian Character." Texts for use have been compiled and recommended by the Illinois Church Council of Religious Education. The Council of Churches also has undertaken the project of erecting two signs, one on either highway approach to Mt. Morris, reading "Welcome to the Churches of Mt. Morris."

High School Certified H. A. Hoff, principal of the Community high school, received a letter from L. B. Fisher, chairman of the commission of secondary schools for the North Central association, stating that the Mt. Morris school has been approved for another year.

The rating received is the highest given by NCA.

Clubwomen to Meet The Ogle County Federation of Women's clubs, Lutheran church, Mt. Morris, will meet April 13.

Feature addresses will be on "Socialized Medicine" by Dr. William K. Ford, Rockford, and "How and Why of County Historical Societies" by Miss Mable Goddard, president of the Stephenson county historical society.

Distant Star

...Clemency was quite certain of that. As certain as she was that Syre had only hidden her doors here this evening as a matter of convenience. She would otherwise have found the first sight of re-union impossible.

As soon as possible Clemency made her escape. Back in the brightly lit corridors she told herself that the Amberley's private affairs were really nothing to do with her.

With the sudden feeling that she must have a breath of fresh air, Clemency slipped out of her dress and opening her window softly went outside.

...NORTH AFRICAN nights can be amazingly cold in contrast to the warmth of the day, and this was no exception. Above the great vault of the sky was like a dark sapphire and all the myriad stars of the desert hung down like golden lamps.

They seemed so near that as she looked up at them, Clemency had the fancy that she could touch them by reaching up.

She put up a hand, and shaking her head at her fancy dropped it again. The stars were out of reach—like so many other things.

She was half leaning on the balcony rail when at a sound below she drew back abruptly. But from where she stood she could still see the man and had emerged from the shadow of the house and paused near the door, staring across the sleeping garden.

It was Peter Amberley.

The moon was coming up, and in its silver light Clemency saw him clearly. Her first impression of that strong clear-cut face had been that it was hard and rather cynical. During the evening the impression had been more than once amended. When he smiled there was an extraordinary charm about it, but he was not smiling now.

She felt just as she had earlier about Syre. It was almost as though a mask had dropped, showing the man behind it and Clemency thought that she had never seen such bitter disillusion on any man's face.

Clemency had changed into the only frock she had—until her trunk arrived. It was a velvet gown with a trim of black and white flowers on one shoulder. The bodice was made with a square neckline and the sleeves were cut with their fullness gathered into wrist bands. The color which could have been trying was perfect with Clemency's clear cream skin and gold hair and the dark lipstick which she had used.

There was surprised appreciation on Jon's face. Then, as he moved forward Syre saw her and called out: "Come in, Miss Norton."

Jon laughed. "I didn't recognize Miss Norton. I was wondering who it was—standing like a hour at the gates of Paradise."

"Of what?" There was a demurely ironic infection in Syre's question.

Piers had risen putting down his paper. "Come and have a drink, Miss Norton," he invited. "and tell me what you think of the Alces."

She looked at him questioningly.

"The house," he said. "Translated into English the name of it is Red Alces."

"Oh, I don't know. It's the most fascinating house I have ever been in." It was obvious that she meant it, and there was a little less bleakness than usual in the smile he gave her.

Piers dropped a piece of ice into the long glass he held and lifted it up. As he handed it to her he

Hollywood Holds Publicity Dearer Than Its 'Relations'

By BOB THOMAS

(Second of three articles on the movie industry's public relations.)

Hollywood, April 11 (AP)—What's wrong with Hollywood's public relations?

The most obvious answer is contained in the front page articles of David Bergman, Rita Hayworth, Robert Mitchum, etc. Sensational headlines do react against the movie business (although some people claim the news adds glamour).

But scandal is not the villain. Many observers claim

Hollywood has worked too hard for publicity and barely at all for public relations.

There's a Difference

There's a difference. Publicity is concerned with selling products—in the movies, case stars and pictures. Public relations means making friends for the industry as a whole.

Publicity may work well in prosperous times. But there comes a time when a "feller" (and an industry) needs a friend. It came in 1929 when the industry tried to combat a sagging box office with a campaign declaring motion Clemency was quite certain of that. As certain as she was that Syre had only hidden her doors here this evening as a matter of convenience. She would otherwise have found the first sight of re-union impossible.

As soon as possible Clemency made her escape. Back in the brightly lit corridors she told herself that the Amberley's private affairs were really nothing to do with her.

With the sudden feeling that she must have a breath of fresh air, Clemency slipped out of her dress and opening her window softly went outside.

pictures are your best entertainment.

A similar drive is starting now, pegged on movies as better than ever.

But "friendship cannot be built only in times of stress. And Hollywood has long been unwilling to take a long range view of things.

A notable example came last year when the studios announced they were going to pull the financial props from under the academy awards affair, which is Hollywood's most successful venture.

New Radio Shows Fill Gap For the Blind; Simple Idea

By CYNTHIA LOWRY (For Hal Boyle)

New York — Between Braille, record players and radios, a lot has been done to keep the blind informed and up to date—but there was one big gap unfilled.

That was the reasoning of David Margolis, a young Brooklyn lawyer who abandoned the bar to do what he could to help the blind.

So Margolis, who lost his own sight during an illness 12 years ago, dreamed up a radio program.

Sold an idea

Then he took the harness off his gentle shepherd dog Cindy, came to Manhattan and sold his idea on the spot. A couple of weeks later the premiere of the show on a New York independent station, jammed the switchboard with enthusiastic telephone calls.

It's called "The Talking Magazine," a weekly half-hour digest of current periodical articles and a report on matters usually overlooked by news broadcasters and commentators but still of interest to the public.

After some name-calling by Academy President Jean Hersholt, the studios quietly agreed to continue supporting the event.

Press Agents' Paradise?

Much of Hollywood's bad publicity comes from the town itself. There are 325 press correspondents, 91 foreign press, 45 news photographers and 12 radio people registered with the Johnson office. The majority of them want their news to be exclusive.

Naturally there can't be enough real news and feature stories to supply all of them. Other material has to be manufactured and some of it does not reflect well on Hollywood.

Supplying this tremendous news need are 170 press agents employed by the studios. And there are scores of other press agents who work for individuals. Some of them rate standards, but others will do anything to get their clients in print.

All of this does not add up to making Hollywood appear to be the same place that some of its steady inhabitants claim it is.

Hazardous Hours on Highways, 4 to 5 p.m.

Springfield, Ill., April 11 (AP)—The most hazardous hour to Illinois motorists was between 4 and 5 p.m. last year.

In that hour, automobile accidents on state highways outside cities totaled 1,841.

The state highway division said 5 to 6 p.m. ranked a close second with 1,636 accidents.

Snails have been known to die for five years at a time.

Holds Artery Cut By Knife, Saves Life of Boy, 15

Springfield, Mo., April 11—(AP)—A 15-year-old youth was reported recovering today from a severe knife wound—and much of the credit goes to Police Inspector Floyd Roberts.

Roberts, answering a police call yesterday, found James Carl Sage bleeding profusely from an abdominal wound. Sage, whose mother operates a tourist court, accidentally had run into a butcher knife held by a cook.

Roberts quickly reacted into the wound and closed up a severed artery with his fingers. He held the artery until the boy arrived at a hospital four miles away.

The boy was given blood transfusions last night. Doctors said his condition was good.

Chicago Tribune Victor in Libel Suit by Minister

Chicago, April 11—(AP)—A verdict of acquittal was ordered by Federal Judge Elwyn R. Shaw yesterday in William Estep's $1,000,000 libel suit against the Chicago Tribune.

In directing the verdict, Judge Shaw told the jury "it is known by this record that everything the Tribune said about this plaintiff was true," and that Estep had admitted all the newspaper's charges under oath.

Estep, self-styled pastor of the Central Baptist church of Chicago, accused the Tribune of destroying his good name in a series of articles on medical and religious quackery.

"The words used by the Tribune, which are complained of as being libelous, are none too strong," Judge Shaw said. "In fact, it would be difficult to find words properly to describe a person who would take many hundreds of dollars from a woman dying of breast cancer, and by means of quackery pull her along until proper surgical treatment becomes useless and the woman dies."

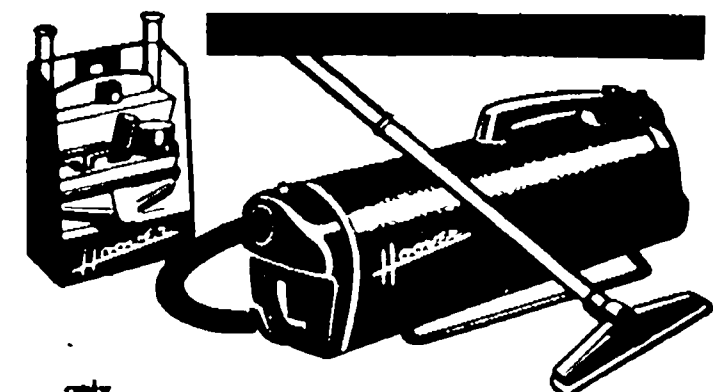

About 120,000,000 pounds of crabs are caught in American waters each year.

Wooden matches struck in the U. S. every day, says the National Geographic Society, contain enough wood for 25 one-room houses.

Early matches were called "tappers" or "flamers" because they sputtered so badly, according to the National Geographic Society.

Plan Council In Drive for Better Amboy

Amboy—The Farm Bureau auditorium Monday night was the scene of the second mass meeting concerned with the community betterment program. The meeting had an attendance of about 80 with representation from 25 community organizations. The Rev. Charles M. Hill, temporary chairman of the program, called the meeting to order at 7:30 p. m. After an opening address, he turned the meeting over to Prof. A. T. Anderson, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

Prof. Anderson outlined the programs as have been generally set up in the 25 Illinois communities that have undertaken a concrete program of community improvement; however, stressing the fact that it must be an Amboy program, set up by Amboyans to fit Amboy needs.

It was moved by Robert Reinboth and seconded by Sam Thompson to go ahead with plans for the organization of a council to be composed of an elected representative from each organization that so desires. Motion carried.

The next meeting will be May 8 and should be composed of the elected representatives of all organizations in the community area. A motion was carried that the Rev. Hill continue as temporary chairman and Gene Strouss as temporary secretary until the council is formed. The council will elect an executive committee which will guide the actual work of the program. The location of the May 8 meeting will be announced later.

Easter Notes

Bad weather dampened the spirit of the Easter egg hunt Monday in

FROM DIAPERS TO DENTURES—Three-year-old Ronald Adamak of Milwaukee, Wis., may be the youngest wearer of false teeth in the country. Ronald lost his teeth because of excessive decay, and students at the Marquette University prosthodontics department made him a full new set. He is seen being fitted with the choppers, left, and then proudly showing them off.

Green River Park. A rain which started just at the time of the hunt drenched participants and cut attendance. However, the hunt was carried on with prize winners receiving baskets of Easter candy and each child received a handful of candy.

The sleet storm did considerable damage to Amboy's trees Sunday and downed some electric lines. A number of people were without electricity from Sunday afternoon until Monday afternoon. There was some curtailment of telephone service, also.

Mr. and Mrs. James McKeown, Kevin and Mike, Moline, spent Easter weekend in Amboy visiting their families. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Turnquist and Mr. and Mrs. D. McKeown.

Miss Mary Schneider and Mrs. Helen Tomchaney, Chicago, spent Easter weekend with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Schneider. For Easter dinner, the Schneiders entertained their son and family also. Mr. and Mrs. William Schneider, Moline and Danny.

Gene Strouss and Beverly spent Easter weekend in Tampico with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Strouss.

Mrs. Nella Vaughan visited her sisters in Polo Easter weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shoemaker, Ann and Susan, returned Monday from a visit with Mrs. C. E. Thuma at Jamestown, Ohio. Mrs. Shoemaker's mother, and Mrs. Edith Shoemaker at Hillboro, Ohio. Mr. Shoemaker's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Price, Jr., spent Easter Sunday in Henry.

Mary Fay Campbell, Blue Island, arrived Thursday night to spend Easter weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bellows and Mrs. Bertha Bellows.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McGaughey.

Lexington, Ky., who have been living in Joliet for the last three months, were Easter weekend visitors at the A. J. Chrouser home.

Dick McGowan, Chicago, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McGowan.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Goldsmith left Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Goldsmith, Newton, for the weekend. Miss Shirley Middleworth rode part way with them on her way to her home in Charleston.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Berga and Mark, Hampton, were Easter weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Berga. For Easter dinner, Mrs. Berga also entertained Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hiatt, Christie and Frankie, and Wayne Hanna.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith entertained Mrs. Gertrude Tait and Mrs. George Bates for Easter dinner. Mrs. Tait and Mrs. Smith are Mrs. Bates' daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ramsey, Dixon, spent Easter day with Mrs. Ramsey's mother, Mrs. Myrtle Eckburg.

Mrs. Gene Strouss spent Easter weekend in Polo with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kramer.

The American Legion auxiliary will have a scramble dinner Wednesday noon, April 19, at the Lee County Nursing home. After dinner, members will sew drapes for the home.

The Rev. Charles M. Hill will speak to the Amboy Women's club Monday, April 17, about the community betterment program now underway.

Dr. Lois Weber Goes East, Gets New Dog

Dr. Lois Weber, of the Bend Chiropractic Clinic left Chicago by air Monday for Morristown, N. J., where she will obtain a new "Seeing Eye Dog". Several months ago her own "Seeing Eye Dog" was poisoned.

Through the generosity of the Wa-Tan-Ye Women's Service Organization of Dixon and other Dixonites, a "Seeing Eye Dog Fund" raised sufficient funds to send Dr. Weber to Morristown for a new dog. The doctor will remain in the east for four weeks while the dog is being trained with her.

Congress Can Determine Red Status, Ruling

Washington, April 11—(AP)—The Supreme court today refused to interfere with the power of congressional committees to compel witnesses to say whether they are Communists.

The refusal came in the tribunal's rejection of two appeals filed by movie writers John Howard Lawson and Dalton Trumbo.

They were convicted of contempt of congress for declining to tell the house un-American activities committee whether they were members of the Communist party.

The Supreme Court denied hearings to Lawson and Trumbo on their appeals, thereby letting stand a lower court ruling that congressional committees have power to inquire into Communist party membership.

The U. S. Court of Appeals here in upholding the convictions of Lawson and Trumbo declared:

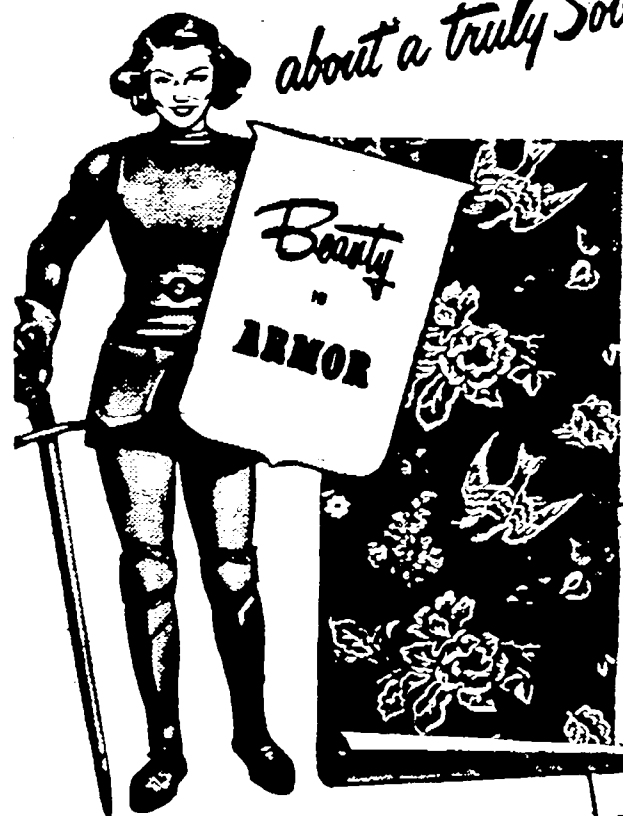

"The right of free speech is not absolute, but must yield to national interests justifiably thought to be of larger importance. The same is true of the right to remain silent."

"When legislating what it believes to be a threat of substantive evil of national welfare, congress may abridge either freedom."

MAIL AND FEMALE—Pretty Lynn Carroll of Chicago, a front runner in the race for the title "Miss Stardust of 1950," stands beside a mailbox to show other pretty girls how to get into the contest. All you do, cuties, is mail a photo of yourself, giving height, bust, hip and waist measurements, to Post Office Box 65, Murray Hill Station, N. Y., before May 1st. The winner gets $500 in cash, a trip to New York and a three-year contract as a model.

OLD SCHOOL PIE—With real zest, student Herb Brannan lands a lemon cream pie square in the face of San Francisco City College professor Maurice Powers. The prof-pasting pastry was thrown at the Tau Chi Sigma fraternity's charity event, with the proceeds going to send underprivileged boys to summer camp. The pies, bought from faculty members, could be eaten or thrown at the seller. None were eaten.

New Strikes Threaten on Labor Front

Washington April 11—(AP)—Threatened strikes in the maritime, railroad and telephone industries marred the nation's relatively quiet labor relations scene today.

Walkouts may develop in all three industries within the next several weeks.

In addition 3,500 mechanics and flight attendants of Pan-American Airways, a principal American overseas carrier have authorized a strike but set no date as yet.

Capt. Charles F. May, general president of the AFL's Masters, Mates and Pilots union, told reporters yesterday his union plans a strike at midnight Saturday of about 4,000 Atlantic and gulf ship deck officers.

May said this will stop about 80 per cent of Atlantic-gulf ship tonnage. The dispute is over a new contract, a union shop and seniority guarantees, May said.

Rails Threatened
Strikes have been authorized by the Brotherhoods of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen-Engineers. A walkout by either or both of these unions, representing several hundred thousand operating workers, could bring the nation's rail transportation system to a standstill.

The two unions want a third man assigned to each locomotive crew, now composed of one engineer and one fireman.

Even if the railroads should yield on this issue they would run into a problem. Because the engineers' brotherhood wants the proposed third man to be an engineer, the firemen's brotherhood wants the third man to be a fireman.

Fact-finding boards appointed by President Truman to investigate the proposals of both brotherhoods reported the third crewman is unnecessary to operate diesel safely, as the two unions have contended.

The two unions now are in a position to strike and the course of settlement procedures under the railway labor law has been run.

Phone Workers Poised
The CIO's Communications Workers of America, representing about 300,000 phone operators, repairmen and equipment installers, is poised for a strike on April 25 when a 60-day truce arranged by President Truman expires. The union has demanded a 15-cent an hour boost in wages and other concessions from Bell Telephone system companies.

Douglas Wants U. S. Workers' Vacations Cut

Washington April 11—(AP)—Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) today introduced two bills aimed at cutting down the vacations and sick leaves of federal employees.

One bill would reduce from 26 to 20 working days a year the vacations now given most government workers outside the Postal Service. Their sick leave would be cut from 15 to 12 days.

At the same time, the vacations of postal workers would be raised from 15 to 20 days and sick leave from 10 to 12 days.

The second, alternative bill also would equalize sick leave but base vacations on the length of an employee's service. Those with less than three years service would get 10 days or two weeks. After three years service, the vacations would be increased to 15 days and after 10 years service, to 20 days.

Douglas said the vacations allowed under either bill would be "liberal or comparable" with those granted by private employers.

He estimated the savings at $100,000,000 to $150,000,000 a year, depending upon which bill is adopted.

Bar Association Seeking Substitute for Divorce

Los Angeles, April 11—(AP)—A new model plan for ailing marriages, something besides divorce, is an absolute must in the United States and a committee of the American Bar Association is formulating the plan.

Judge Paul W. Alexander of the Court of Common Pleas, Toledo, Ohio, who heads the Bar Association's special committee, said in an interview today that legislators have been trying since 1883 to get uniform divorce laws or constitutional amendments.

But it just isn't in the cards, Judge Alexander told Superior Judges Joseph Malloy and Elmer Doyle of Los Angeles' domestic relations court. "Migratory divorce, involving couples who run to another state,—Nevada, for instance—makes up only three per cent of the total, so it's really none that worry us."

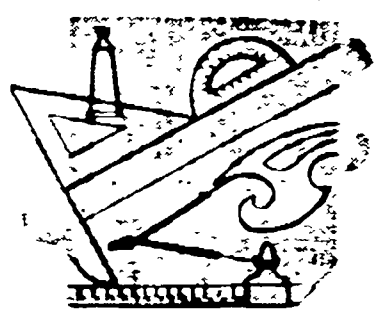

Judge Alexander said his committee is studying, not for a standard divorce law, but a good working divorce model. "There is a uniform support already adopted by a dozen states," the jurist pointed out. "There's no reason why all shouldn't adopt it, for it concerns financial care of children. All religious faiths have accepted it. Catholic, Protestant, Jewish."

The present method of dispensing divorce, he said, is like permitting a sick man to diagnose his illness and prescribe his own remedy.

"The Bar Association's special committee doesn't want to take away anybody's rights," said Judge Alexander. "But our model law will be for conference, investigation, consultation and deep probing even psycho-analysis if necessary."

 WANTED OR ASKED FOR IN AN OIL UNIT

Howell & Reis Oil Burner Service includes, besides the routine cleaning and adjusting, complete heating efficiency analysis, using the latest type instruments, which assures the owner the satisfaction of knowing just how much heat he is getting from every dollar's worth of fuel. The combustion analysis test is the only means of determining proper oil-air ratio and proper burner adjustment.

These facts often uncover defects and maladjustments in some heating plants that were not known to exist, causing high fuel bills which the owner "put up with," thinking it just the cost of convenience. No oil burner can be adjusted properly by guess work. Guess work is costing owners thousands of dollars in wasted fuel every year.

Manure from Livestock Is Important Item to Farmers

The most valuable livestock product on your farm probably is manure.

Figures reported today by soil men in the Illinois College of Agriculture show that manure has given extra crop yields worth up to $50 an acre. On most of the 25 soil experiment fields scattered over the state, manure was worth from $20 to $30 an acre.

Needs Care

Yet many farmers lose $200 a year from poor care of manure. C. M. Linsley, extension soil man, says many livestock farms produce 200 tons or more of manure each year. But about 70 tons is usually lost. It's dropped in unpaved barn lots or feedlots, or fertility leaches out when it's piled outside.

At $2 a ton, that 70 tons of wasted manure means a loss of about $200. And 70 tons is enough to cover 11 acres of cropland with 6 tons to acre, a fairly heavy application.

Some Suggestions

Here are some suggestions from

Farmers Can Get Info on Fly Control

Urbana—About twice as many flies carried out organized fly-control campaigns in 1949 as during 1948, but sometimes their efforts were "too little and too late."

This report came today from H. B. Petty, extension entomologist in the Illinois College of Agriculture and Illinois Natural History Survey, and J. D. Williams, Illinois Department of Public Health.

These three groups plus the Illinois Agricultural Association sponsored state-wide fly-control campaigns in 1948 and 1949.

No state-wide campaign will be conducted in 1950, it has been decided, but you can get information to help on urban or rural fly-control work from the Illinois Natural History Survey, Illinois Department of Public Health, county farm advisers, or county health departments.

An estimated 100 towns staged an all-out fly-control campaign in 1949, say Petty and Williams, compared with 40 to 50 in 1948. In addition, about 150 towns made a minor effort in 1949 and an unknown number in 1948.

Petty and Williams said most towns put forth their greatest effort after the polo scare last summer. But fly numbers then were at or near their peak. The statewide must be done in the spring, they explained, by cleaning out all fly-breeding places. Strict sanitation cuts down numbers, and chemical sprays can then take the greatest possible toll of the numbers that are left.

Barnyard Superstitions Are Plentiful; Here's Few of 'em

Urbana—You've probably heard some people say that a hair from a horse's tail will turn into a snake. The truth is that the long, thin worms which are sometimes seen in water are the adult stage of worms which are parasites of such insects as grasshoppers.

Horses often go blind from a disease which is still called moon blindness because it was once believed to have been caused by changes in the moon. A better name is periodic ophthalmia. It is now thought to be caused by insufficient vitamin B2 in the feed.

Hairs from Horse

Believers in the signs of the moon still put off operating on their bull-calves, boar-pigs, and other male animals until the moon is right. The truth is that the skillful outcome of any operation depends on the knowledge, skill, and care of the operator.

Some people still push a greasy rag or a piece of fat pork into a cow's mouth to bring back the lost cud. The real reason the cud fails to appear is that the cow is sick. Having a veterinarian remove the cause of the sickness will bring back the cud.

Another Dust Storm Rages In Wheatlands

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The third big dust storm of the year swept wide sections of the nation's wheatlands in mid-America yesterday.

With the blow came fears that strong April winds may whip up more trouble for farmers already harassed by long dry spells.

Kansas and Oklahoma, two of the nation's top wheat producing states, took the brunt of yesterday's winds. Strong gusts also swept the Texas panhandle, eastern Colorado and New Mexico both Sunday and yesterday.

Larger Areas Eroded

An agronomist at the Ft. Hays, Kas., agriculture experiment station pointed out, however, that in the previous dust storms this year only small areas were blowing, but yesterday's winds eroded larger spots.

A prolonged dry spell has loosened the soil.

The dust was so thick yesterday in parts of Kansas that visibility for a time was zero. The highway patrol closed one U. S. highway west of Salina because of the dust hazard.

The worst conditions in Oklahoma were reported in the northern part of the state with visibility cut to half a mile around Pawnee.

The winds, which reached more than 50 miles an hour at times, diminished last night, however, in the two states. They also subsided yesterday in Texas, Colorado and New Mexico.

In addition to blowing away top soil, the winds also dry out the land. A good rain is badly needed in wide areas of Kansas, Texas and Oklahoma if the winter wheat crop is to be successful.

Strong winds whipped across most of the central part of the country today, with rain and snow in some areas.

Heavy Winds

The U. S. Weather Bureau said winds of 40 to 50 mph swept over areas of Iowa, Illinois and Indiana. Gusts of 60 mph were reported near Chicago. The windy, cold weather moved into Kentucky and Tennessee.

Rain fell in the Ohio valley and Michigan and rain or snow was reported in parts of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa. The storm moved out of the northern plains, where blizzard conditions were reported in some parts of South Dakota and Minnesota last night. Many communities, mostly in Iowa, were isolated from outside telephone communication.

Temperatures were higher over the eastern states, except for the New England region, and over most of the western states. They were below freezing in many sections of the north central region.

U. I. Gets Grant Of $2,250 for Elevator Study

The Illinois College of Agriculture has accepted a grant of $2,250 from the Illinois Grain Corporation to study ways to improve the operation of country grain elevators and farmers' cooperatives.

The first part of the work will be a financial study of 150 elevators to show the differences in efficiency of their operations and services. These facts should help to show where improvements can be made. Results of the study will be available to all members of the grain trade.

Lawrence T. Witherspoon, June 1949 University graduate, is working on this project under supervision of full-time staff men in the department of agricultural economics.

Thailand Will Get U. S. Military Arms

Bangkok, April 11—(AP)—The United States has granted $10,000 worth of arms and other military aid to a Thailand threatened by Communism, Premier Pibul Songgram disclosed today.

New Mexico Forest Fire Under Control

Alamogordo, N. M., April 11—(AP)—A forest fire that swept over 2500 acres of timberland in southern New Mexico was reported under control today.

The fire started in the Sacramento mountain foothills 12 miles southwest of Weed Sunday.

Need Bipartisan Group in Congress

Senator Lodge thinks the senate's current inquiry into alleged Communists in the state department is a poor way to promote loyalty among government workers. He proposed that a bipartisan commission be selected to take over the investigation.

According to Lodge, the probe inspired by Senator McCarthy is doing more harm than good as now conducted. Any inquiry on such a pattern, he said, besmirches innocent people, weakens the nation's standing before the world, fails to turn up the really dangerous individuals and may actually make their job easier by putting the spotlight on others.

This isn't the first time a private commission has been suggested to take over investigations begun by congress. Similar proposals were made during last year's probes of atomic energy security and the B-36 bomber procurement program.

This idea keeps cropping up because many fair-minded persons in and out of congress deplore the fact that these inquiries seem inevitably to degenerate into bitter partisan squabbles in which truth gets lost in the shuffle.

The power of congress to investigate is one of its most vital functions. Obviously laws can't be wisely drawn without a solid factual footing.

Yet this power is perhaps the most abused of all those enjoyed by the lawmakers. Too often the partisan members of congressional committees set out in pursuit, not of all the evidence, but of just those facts that will support the conclusions they have reached in advance.

Politics being what it is, perhaps this is unavoidable. If it is, then severe limits obviously must be placed on the value of congressional inquiries.

In that event, then there indeed seems to be wisdom in these repeated calls for independent, private commissions to study serious issues which plainly are difficult to thresh out in the rough and tumble of the political arena.

As Lodge's colleagues already have pointed out, it's undoubtedly too late to shift the present probe from congress to an outside group but the next time it's necessary to dig into a problem as grave and as loaded with political dynamite as state department security, the commission idea ought to be tried.

Comforting Thought

To anyone who's been worrying about the way the Russians are said to be producing submarines, a U. S. navy expert has some comforting words. He says there's a development just ahead that may enable this country to drive submarines off the seas.

If he isn't exaggerating, this is big news. For the submarine in another war is not visualized simply as a menace to shipping and naval surface craft. It is picture as a mobile platform for the launching of powerful guided missiles that could do untold damage to important shore installations many miles away.

Moreover, it gives promise of executing its original function more effectively. Modern submarines can fire target-seeking and pattern-weaving torpedoes from distances too great for ship-listening devices to detect them.

The naval expert, Rear Adm. C. B. Momsen, hinted that the development which might put submarines out of business would be in the field of detection devices. But he offered no details.

It'd be ironic if a highly successful anti-submarine device were to be developed just at the moment when the submarine itself is expanding its usefulness and flexibility as a weapon. But, reading those Russian claims, Americans no doubt would be able to bear the irony of such a coincidence.

Abundant Living

Matt. 9:29; 17:20, Mark 11:22; Acts 3:16

FASHIONED FOR FAITH AND NOT FOR FEAR

It had been my original intention to close the meditations on the conquest of fear last week, but the more we have faced this matter the more fundamental has it become. As I wrote the above, a letter came from a highly gifted woman with this sentence in it. "Oh, Dr. Jones, everything is wrong, and I am so afraid I am going to crack up completely." She says that "everything is wrong." She blames her circumstances; but there is nothing wrong whatever except her fear, which in turn is rooted in her self-centered attitudes. Her universe continually falls to pieces because of her self-centered attitudes giving birth to fears. If she would change the center of her life all her sums would come out right; but with the center wrong nothing comes out right.

This week, then, we shall gather up our inward resolves and register them. These resolves will not be a screwed-up, clenched-fist type of resolves, but a calm, relaxed registration of life committed to certain attitudes.

(1) I see that I am inwardly fashioned for faith and not for fear. Fear is not my native land; faith is. I am so made that worry and anxiety are sand in the machinery of life; faith is oil. I live better by faith and confidence than by fear and doubt and anxiety. In anxiety and worry my being is gasping for breath—these are not my native air. But in faith and confidence I breathe freely—these are my native air. A Johns Hopkins' doctor says that "we do not know why it is that the worriers die sooner than the non-worriers, but that is a fact." But I, who am simple in mind, think I know. We are inwardly constructed, in nerve and tissue and brain cell and soul, for faith and not for fear. God made us that way. Therefore, the need of faith is not something imposed on us dogmatically, but it is written in us intrinsically. We cannot live without it.

To live by worry is to live against Reality.

O God, since the need of confidence and faith is written in me, and they are therefore inescapable, I will not try to escape from them. I surrender myself to the healing and the renewing of faith and confidence. Their healing goes now into every fiber of my being. I am grateful. Amen.

Judge Refuses To Dismiss Suit By General Teece

Springfield, Ill., April 11—(AP)—Circuit Judge DeWitt S. Crow announced today he will refuse to dismiss the suit of Joseph A. Teece seeking reinstatement as commanding general of the Illinois National Guard.

Judge Crow said he will enter a formal order later in the day denying the dismissal motion filed by Attorney General Ivan Elliott.

The case will proceed toward a hearing on the merits of Teece's contention. No date was set.

Teece is challenging an order, effective March 15, relieving him as guard commander and commanding general of the 44th infantry division and placing him on the retired list as a lieutenant general.

The attorney general argued that Teece was retired because his term as a major general had expired under the 1947 tenure of office act and that he was ineligible for reappointment.

Teece contends the tenure law does not affect his status because he was appointed prior to its enactment.

Harry Lazier's Talk At Confab Reprinted

Harry Lazier, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Lazier of Dixon, was a speaker at the 56th annual convention of the American Carnation Society at its recent meeting at Milwaukee, Wis. He is associated with Arthur G. Rappell & Co. of Denver, Colo., advertising and publicity counsel for the Colorado State Flower Growers association. His talk in Milwaukee received such favorable comment that it was reprinted in the April 6 issue of the Florists Review, largest florist publication in the country.

Q—Who founded the Society of the Christophers and what is the group's objective?
A—Father James Keller of New York City is founder-director of the Christophers, meaning Christ-bearers. There are at least 200,000 members, chiefly in the United States. There are no dues, no meetings, no denominational requirements. The basic idea is to get people to do something besides just grumble about things they don't like in education, government, labor-management and so on.

Q—Is any provision made for telephone expenses of members of Congress?
A—There is a $500 annual telegram and long-distance telephone call allowance for House members.

Q—How many Labor prime ministers have there been in Great Britain?
A—Two—Clement Attlee and Ramsay MacDonald.

Q—Is the raccoon found anywhere in the world besides the United States?
A—The raccoon is found only in North and Central America, from Alaska in the north to Costa Rica in the south. It is common to the whole of the United States.

Q—Which was the last state to ratify the 21st Amendment to the Constitution?
A—This amendment ending prohibition went into effect on December 5, 1933, having been adopted by 36 of the 48 states. Utah was the 36th state to ratify.

SO THEY SAY

Who among us will feel unless if he has remained passively by while Western culture was being overwhelmed?

—Dr. Frederick Seitz, professor of Physics, University of Illinois.

The nation's defenses today are far better than a year ago and getting better all the time.

—Defense Secretary Louis Johnson.

The man who seeks to gain political advantage from personal attack on a secretary of state is a man who seeks political advantage from damage to his country.

—Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of state and secretary of war.

Once it is decreed that people are to be killed, the "moral" question is fully settled. It was probably far more unpleasant to be disemboweled by the 18-inch sword of the Roman soldier than it will be to vanish in the flash of a nuclear reaction.

—Dr. Louis Ridenour, graduate dean, Illinois University, on practicality vs. morality of the H-bomb.

To face the dangers of a very tough world, what we need is not to be overwhelmed, with these dangers, but to understand them.

Crooner Haymes Is Thief In His Big Dramatic Role

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Hollywood — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: Dick Haymes is about to wrestle with his first whopping dramatic role in "St. Benny the Dip," an opus of life among cut-throats in New York. He'll play a pickpocket and sing only two songs.

"Not pops," he said. "These are story-wise songs."

I asked Dick what he thought of the imitation of his singing style that his ex-brother-in-law, Pete Marshall, is doing around Hollywood.

Nora, sitting with him, answered instead.

"I don't think it's a bit like Dick," she said. "I think it stinks and you can quote me."

If Denise Darcel wears oil man Peter Crosby, the orange blossoms will have to be put in the ice-box until August. That's the month her divorce from Bill Shaw becomes final.

Margaret Sullivan's big moment is Campbell Bratt, a Los Angeles feed broker. They steer clear of the Hollywood crowds and are near the rice and old shoes stage.

Carol Thurston, the Three Martini's of "The Story of Dr. Wassell," is staging a film comeback via TV.

Howard Hughes will give Janis Carter a big RKO building after buying half of her Columbia ticket.

MGM's Bob Alton is making secret plans for a color test of Olga Lunick, the ballerna in the road company of "Inside U. S. A."

MGM will release "Father of the Bride" right after Liz Taylor's marriage May 6. In the picture she marries Don Taylor.

WEDDING BELLS?
Cy Bartlett is June Haver's first serious romance since the death of her fiancé, Dr. John Dussik. Mary Astor's daughter, Marilyn Thorpe, will marry a USC professor. Benny Rubin is headed for Tucson, Ariz., for a rest. While there, he'll look for locations for a western idea he has for TV.

MGM is polishing "Hit the Deck" for a remake as a Vic Damone-June Allyson starrer. Jane Greer has accepted an invitation from the War Department to model the new 1950 WAC uniform. Back in 1941, Jane modeled the first WAC uniform ever made. The photograph led to a film test.

Actor Jerome Courtland and singer Polly Bergen are headed for the altar. Lloyd Nolan has been getting rave reviews all over the country for his performance in "The Silver Whistle." Bet when he opens at the Biltmore Theater here, one producer will turn to another and say:

"Gad, he's great in the part. Wonder who they can get to do the movie that well?"

Elsa Lanchester plays her first heavy—a lady blacksmith—in 10 years in "Mystery Street." She says: "It's a detour in character I cheerfully admit I love."

I asked June Haver, who did a TV version of "The Egg and I" in New York, how it felt to be working under Robert Montgomery's new video production set-up.

"He was the producer, all right," June said, "but I don't remember seeing him around. Oh, yes, we did take publicity pictures together before rehearsals started."

TOO MUCH
Ruth Chatterton, at 56, has just completed her first novel, "Homeward Bound." Ruth says she's through with movies because she doesn't like the climate, the early hours, or "paying all that income tax to do something you don't want to do." Has Geraldine Brooks done what no other doll is able to do on the screen—take a man away from Shelley Winters? Farley Granger seems to prefer her company lately. Dinah Shore, who never looked better, may return to the screen in James Kern's "Old Fashioned Moonlight."

Betty Garrett and Larry Parks plan to work as a team whenever possible now that she's free of her MGM contract. This includes not only their indie film, "Stakeout," but a New York play this fall and a vaudeville tour.

MGM hopes to stop all the screaming about too many sex and gangster films. They've got over 20 films highlighting American historical events and the American way of life.

Bob Sterling has chips on Betty Hutton as a lady Ben Hogan. He says: "The minute I saw her swing on the golf course I knew that she could be one of the nation's best golfers." Betty is taking lessons from a pro.

HOT WATER, TOO
The Balboa Bay Club at Newport Beach has become one of the coast's top showplaces. Latest improvement is 50 new bedrooms, each with its own lanai.

Lois Andrews, who switched from blonde to brunette, is back from the dye bucket with dark red hair. Unhappy district movie manager Lew Bray of Harlingen, Tex., writes me:

"Surely, you wouldn't attempt to take the joy out of movie going. Popcorn and candy are as much a part of the movie theater as soda pop and peanuts at the circus."

If you're an elephant, yes.

Orson Welles' version of Shakespeare's "Macbeth," which he made for Republic two years ago, is being readied for release within 30 days. The film will play the art house circuit first, then go into general release. According to the studio, all that was wrong with the first version of the film was that there was entirely too much art and not enough sellability. The art has been eliminated, much to Orson's disgust.

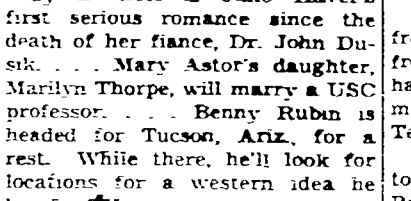

What's RIGHT?

Your child has reached the "telephone age."

WRONG WAY: Let him telephone his friends whenever the nation strikes him.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that when your child makes a telephone call you are not disturbed, but the other child's parents may be.

Reindeer have contributed to the support of man in one country or another for about 30,000 years.

Don't Give Alcohol to Child to Discourage Later Drinking Habits—It Just Won't Work

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

I can't understand why some people do some of the things that they do.

Q—My two-year-old son likes beer and wine very much. All my friends say to give it to him because it won't hurt him and if we give it to him now he won't drink when he grows up, but I don't know.

R.A.H.

A—Beer and wine contain alcohol and a small child is susceptible to even small quantities of alcohol. Instead of discouraging him from drinking when he grows up, the chances are that the opposite will be true. Don't do it.

Q—What is malignant hypertension and what are the symptoms?

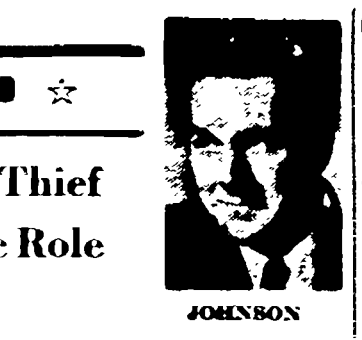

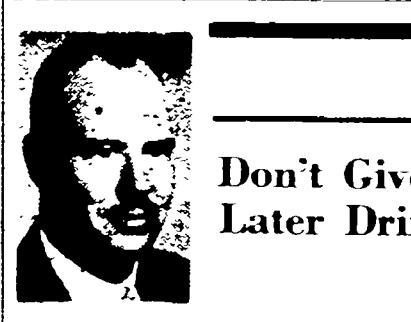

A.W.R.

A—Malignant hypertension is a term used to describe a serious and rapidly progressive form of high blood pressure. The cause is not yet known. The symptoms vary but severe headache is one of the common early signs.

Q—Does the change of life have to start at 40? Could it begin in a woman who has had an operation in the middle 30's?

Doubtful.

A—The change of life is not considered to be a sudden process

If Bid Is Bold Play Carefully

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority

An expert card player can afford to indulge in optimistic bidding occasionally, and often makes a game that a less confident player would fail to bid. In today's hand South was undaunted by his partner's minimum response to his opening bid, and proceeded to bid the hand to a slam. His play, however, was not based on optimism. By careful planning before playing to the first trick, he found the way to make the contract.

If he had used his low trump to ruff the opening lead of the king of hearts, he would have lost, but he carefully ruffed with the

He says Charlie Chaplin's reputation as a rotter is established beyond challenge.

An item has appeared in the Tucson Citizen, possibly part of an organized scheme to inflame again on the public the lecherous and un-American personality of Charlie Chaplin.

Early in March, the Associated Press reported from Hollywood:

"The town has been buzzing with reports that Charlie Chaplin is spending half-a-million dollars to improve his relations with the public. Now there appears a reason for the move, television. There have been indications that the famed comic would like to follow the success of Hopalong Cassidy and release his old films to video, thus creating a new and widespread audience."

Unwary editors, comic artists, columnists, radio producers and the public are put on warning.

The February number of the Atlantic Monthly carries on its front cover a "comic" drawing of Chaplin, in his makeup, running from three brutal American cops of the pot-bellied version. This is signed by Al Capp, a strip artist of elusive humor. His strip is called "Little Abner."

Comedy of Chaplin

Below the drawing of Chaplin and the cops is the title of the leading article in the February of Charlie Chaplin, by Al Capp.

In the text, Capp modestly pleads guilty of humorous genius. Thus qualified, he sets forth a rebash of all the old airy appreciations of a detestable alien gutter-snipe who had four wives, three of them just kids, and in his nasty senility seduced another young American girl, got her pregnant and had her run out of town, practically penniless. The Atlantic Monthly's stately old character has been modified by strong but undeclared political inclinations.

Who Said That?

About the time of this issue a radio and television program entitled "Who Said That?" was put to the same use but in a subtle, indirect manner. The cast or team were asked who had "the greatest artist that our time has produced." After considerable gagging of incredibly stupid quality, the author of this judgment was identified as Mr. Capp by Mr. Capp. His own humor is put to the test in the following excerpt from the transcript:

"Chaplin and I were coming out of a restaurant where he paid for the lunch. This was the other day. This starts the thing off in a sort of expensive way. Yeh, and as we came out a fellow passed us and Charlie said, 'He looks familiar,' and we tried to guess his name and we couldn't. His name was Lapidus, we later found out. How about that? (Laughter) All right now, we talked down 53d street, nothing happened. However, several cars drove by which might have contained the lost dauphin, the former Czar of Russia, (laughter) and even Bob Wolfe. We arrived at Fifth Avenue—and this is the pay-off. His line I want you to quote. . . . Charlie said, 'I'm going this way. Which way are you going?' I said, 'I'm going that way,' and we parted. I've always felt that this was one of my favorite anecdotes. (Laughter) I mean, there really isn't much of a bang to it but it gives me a chance to mention Lapidus."

Chaplin has for children, a special price of 30 cents for children 12 and under."

Chaplin the Seducer

These discussions of Chaplin's art and his appeal all fail to mention certain interesting and, to many Americans, controlling facts. Chaplin never did anything to entertain American soldiers in either of the two world wars which he sat out in the safe asylum of the United States. He seduced a stage-struck young American girl and had her railroad with her baby and a few dollars. He never applied for citizenship in the United States. He associated with the most notorious characters in the political cells of Hollywood. He belittled for the second front in France to relieve the pressure on the Russians at the cost of American lives. His reputation as a rotter is established beyond challenge.

When Rupert Hughes was sworn before the committee on un-American activities, he was asked, "Why would a man like Chaplin believe in Communism when everything he has gotten has received by virtue of the capitalist form of government?"

Answer, by Mr. Hughes: "His mother lost her mind and when he was rich, she came over here and died. He said a very pathetic thing: 'My mother went to the insane asylum fearing that I was dying of starvation. Now I am rich and famous but I can't tell her because she won't understand it.' He had great bitterness. Charlie picks up culture through his glands. He doesn't read anything. He thought Communism was smart. I fought him for years. I said, you are rich. The individual poor man can die on your doorstep and you would kick him off."

"He said, 'Yes, I have been poor but I hate the dirty unwashed.'"

"I said, 'Charlie, I have known some pretty rotten people but I consider you the most hardened man I have ever known.'"

Green Favors Merger Of All Labor Unions

Washington, April 11—(AP)—AFL President William Green today strongly endorsed the idea of merging all American labor unions into a single federation, but avoided taking a stand on a CIO plan for all unions to cooperate politically pending the merger.

Green wrote CIO President Philip Murray that the AFL favors formation of "one strong, well established labor organization" in America.

But he said he was referring Murray's idea of a political-economic coordinating committee to the AFL's executive council for a decision when the council meets at Philadelphia May 8.

Should Consider Risk Run By Too-Young Baby-Sitter

The Columbia, Mo., city council has ordered the police force of that college town enlarged as a result of a recent rape-slaying of a 13-year-old baby sitter.

An enlarged police force may give young baby sitters a little more protection, but it seems to me we have a problem before us now that the police, alone, in any town or city can't solve.

When young parents hire girls who are little more than children, themselves, to baby-sit, and when mothers and fathers of young girls permit them to take such jobs at night, there are going to be some tragedies.

Somewhat, many parents have the idea that any child who is old enough to be left alone in a house with a baby or even several small children.

This is a foolish notion, in view of the terrible sex crimes that are happening all over the country, both in cities and in rural areas.

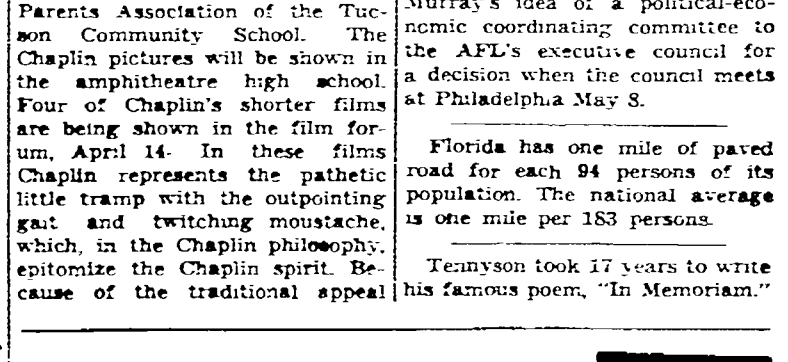

It's Responsibility of Parents

The best way to protect these young girls from what happened to the little 13-year-old girl in Missouri is for all the parents concerned to stop this whole business of too-young baby sitters.

How young is too young? It seems to me a couple shouldn't ask a girl under 18 to take over their responsibilities at night. And parents shouldn't permit daughters under 18 to do night-time baby sitting.

Unless we use common sense and start following some such policy as that, we are just asking for trouble.

Certainly, we need better police protection in most places. But we need better parental protection, too.

To Hear Keegan

Jack Keegan, Dixon Boy Scout leader, will talk to the Foreign Travel club Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the Loveland Community House. He took seven Dixon boys on a 6,000 mile auto trek through Mexico last summer and it is of this particular experience that he will speak.

Ten years ago he made his first trip to Mexico, this time also as a leader of a group of Boy Scouts. In 1937 he went as a scout leader with Scouts of this area for their Jamboree in Holland and then his group toured Europe and were gone two and one-half months.

Last summer in Mexico the boys and Keegan spent 23 days and during this time they took a number of colored pictures. He will show these in connection with his talk Thursday evening.

Ronald Otten, one of the boys who went with him last summer, will also give some of his impressions to the club.

Keegan is leader of Troop 85 here in Dixon which meets at St. Anne's church.

Prairieville Circle Meets

A meeting of the Prairieville Social Circle was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Charles Manon with Mrs. Joan Lenox as co-hostess. There was a scramble dinner at noon after which the ladies served quail blocks while Mrs. John Smeather and Mrs. Jessie Sivits told of their trips to Florida.

President, Mrs. Verne Straw, called the business meeting to order. Roll call was answered with naming a flower beginning with the first letter in the person's first or last name.

Mrs. Manon read two Easter readings and Mrs. Lloyd Bane read one. The secretary's report was read and approved and the treasurer's report was read and accepted. The flower committee reported sending flowers and cards to sick members. Thank you notes were also read. Mrs. Lloyd Bane and Mrs. Kenneth Manon, two new members, were welcomed into the group. There were 13 members, two guests and three children present.

The place for the next meeting will be announced later.

TO WASHINGTON D. C. Mr. and Mrs. Bryant E. Dahl and daughter, Mary Ellen, of Route 3 motored to Washington D. C. to spend the Easter holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Lowell W. James and daughter, Diane Mrs. Diehl and Mrs. James are sisters.

Frances Mae Ransom Is Bride Of Russell G. Hallquist Here

Residing on a farm on Route 2, Dixon, will be newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Gustav Hallquist. The former Frances Mae Ransom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ransom, Route 2, Dixon, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hallquist, Route 2, Dixon, were wed at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Rev. George J. Curran officiated at the March 26 double ring ceremony.

Altar bouquets and baskets of pink snapdragons and white stock, palms and ferns decorated the church for the 2:30 p. m. wedding. Mrs. George J. Curran, Dixon, was the organist and Mrs. Milton Rapp, Sublette, soloist. The organist played a prelude of nuptial selections. Vocal selections included: "Because", "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Nylon Sheer Gown. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon sheer fashioned with a satin bodice, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves coming to a point at the wrist and satin flower applique on the gathered skirt. The train was of nylon sheer and the bride's Elizabethan lace head dress with fingertip veil was edged with alencon lace. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. Red and white roses and white hyacinth formed the bride's bouquet.

Dorothy Ransom, of Route 2, Dixon, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink tulle with a net yoke. She wore matching gaudets and her flara matched her colonial rount.

Hazel House-Paul Swartz Wed in Toulon

Miss Hazel House of Toulon and Paul Swartz of Dixon exchanged marriage vows, Sunday afternoon, April 2, at 2 o'clock, at the Toulon Baptist church with Rev. Arthur O. Czarsky performing the double ring ceremony.

Palms and bouquets of calla lilies with white tapers in branched candelabra were used at the altar. Miss Fannie Jackson, at the organ, played a prelude of nuptial music and the traditional wedding march. Mrs. Eleanor Bruhl was vocal soloist. She sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly," before the service and "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt for the benediction.

Slipper Satin Gown
The bride, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white slipper satin. At the yoke was a satin ruffle and the skirt fell into a chapel length train. Her finger-tip veil was of tulle. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Lucille Booker, of Galva, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor-length green tulle gown with matching mitts. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Don Swartz, Dixon, attended his brother as best man. Serving as ushers were Wilbur Bollman and Don Miller, of Dixon.

Carol Jean Booker, niece of the bride, dressed in pink tulle floor length frock, served as flower girl.

Reception in Church
A reception was held following the ceremony in the church. Receiving the guests with Mr. and Mrs. Swartz were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred House, Toulon, his father, Frank C. Swartz, Dixon, and Mrs. Lucille Booker.

The cake which centered the serving table was made by Mrs. Ted Seavey, of Dixon, a former teacher of the bridegroom.

To Florida
When Mr. and Mrs. Swartz left on a wedding trip to Florida, she was wearing a red gabardine suit with black accessories.

After April 14, they will be at home on a farm west of Dixon where he is engaged in farming.

Mrs. Swartz is a teacher at North Central grade school, Dixon.

Guests were present from Hammond, Ind., Dixon, Geneseo, Springfield, Chicago, Peoria, Budd, Dunlap, Bradford, Kewanee, Galva, Wyoming and Toulon.

Two New States? You Probably Wouldn't Notice 'em

Biggest Effect of Alaska Hawaii Statehood Would Be on Flag Makers

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

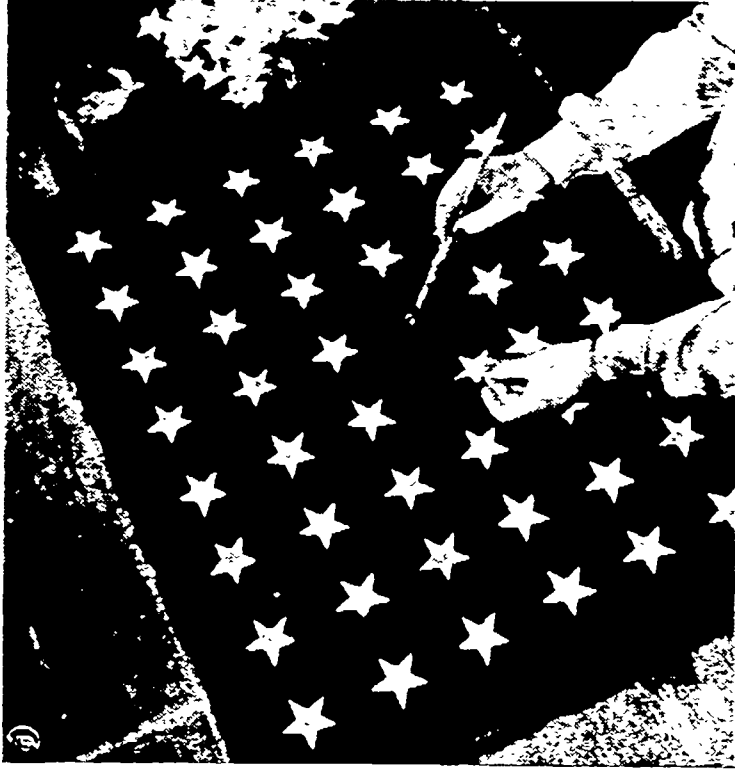

Washington, April 14—(AP)—If Alaska and Hawaii are granted statehood, the first and biggest effect in the U. S. will be a tremendous boom in the flag-making business. It'll mean scrapping every American flag and buying new ones with two stars added.

As far as the Alaskans and Hawaiians go, it'll mean higher taxes for them. They will have to start paying for some functions of a state government which are now paid for by Uncle Sam.

But as far as the average U. S. citizen is concerned, those two important territories could join the federal fraternity without anyone noticing it. Hawaiian pine-apple and Alaskan salmon would cost just as much. A vacation on Waikiki Beach would be just as elusive to the average pocket-book and a summer's jaunt to the "state" of Alaska would be just as difficult.

Nor would you see a lot of Alaskans or ten-decked Hawaiians suddenly migrating to Kalamazoo. They've been U. S. citizens for many years with the privilege to live or travel any place in America.

The U. S. Senate, however, is the American institution which would be most immediately affected. It would get four new members with full privileges of unlimited debate. And that's where the rub comes in the last step to statehood. Some members feel it would give Alaska and Hawaii more of a voice in American affairs than their population and importance now warrant. That thought may be the biggest stumbling block to final congressional approval of statehood.

BANNER BUSINESS: Two new stars for every American flag would be most noticeable effect of statehood for Alaska and Hawaii.

The big House of Representatives, which would only get three new members, one from Alaska and two from Hawaii, has twice voted to give the Pacific Paradise statehood. And recently, for the first time, it voted to give Alaska that privilege. Senate action is all that's needed now.

After Senate approval, constitutional conventions would have to be called in both territories to organize state governments and write constitutions. If the President then approved them, statehood would be automatic.

Alaskans would feel the extra cost of their own state government most. The U. S. Treasury pays about one-quarter of a million dollars a year for Alaska's court system and a half million dollars caring for the insane there. The $20,000,000 a year spent on roads in Alaska would probably continue to be paid by Uncle Sam.

Hawaii's 540,000 citizens would have to shoulder only an additional quarter of a million which the U. S. spends there for some judges' salaries and other minor administrative matters.

In 1894 Hawaii became a republic, patterned after that of the U. S. In 1898 the islands were annexed and in 1900 the present territorial status was fixed. Today it has a population greater than six states and nearly equal to four others.

Alaska's permanent population is estimated to be 70,000 white American citizens from every state and 30,000 Indians and Eskimos. Almost half of the present states came into the Union with fewer people than Alaska has.

Mother Wouldn't Talk to Him. So Vet Shoots Her!

Detroit, April 11—(AP)—Robert La Dex, 30, called police to his small apartment home last night.

Inside on a bed, they found his mother, Mrs. Ruth La Dex, 57, dying of a bullet wound in her head.

Neighbors said that the mother and her war veteran son had seemed to be boon companions.

At police headquarters, however, Detectives Harold Cooper and John Morin said La Dex admitted shooting her deliberately.

They said he told of fearing for his mother's sanity and that he meant to kill himself, too, "but I lacked the guts."

La Dex is one of Chrysler's 89,000 strikers. His mother and father, Hal, had divorced while he was overseas.

La Dex said he had brooded over his mother's refusal for months to speak to him.

"She hadn't said a word all day and I told her we couldn't go on like that any more," the officers quoted him as saying.

Evacuation Plans At Shanghai Fail

Hong Kong, April 11—(AP)—Plans to evacuate stranded foreigners from Communist Shanghai collapsed today for the second time in a month.

British authorities called off the trip of the coastal steamer Anking. The vessel had been ready several days to sail for Shanghai. Last month U. S. State Department plans to evacuate 1,600 foreigners including more than 300 Americans on the Gen. W. H. Gordon were blocked by Chinese Communists.

The British gave no reason for the cancellation.

New Compound for Ulcers Has Jaw-Breaker of Name

Philadelphia, April 11—(AP)—A chemical compound with a jaw-breaker name was reported today to have opened up a new approach to the treatment of stomach ulcers.

The drug, which can be taken by mouth and makes a double-barrelled attack on ulcers, still is in the experimental stage. John W. Cusick and Richard A. Robinson said in a paper prepared for delivery before the American Chemical Society meeting here. The two researchers represent the firm of G. D. Searle & Co., Chicago.

The drug has not been named, but is chemically identified as: Beta-Diethylaminoethyl-Xanthene-

9-Carboxylate Methobromide. It is being released to the medical profession only for use in carefully controlled clinical tests.

The compound also is expected to prove effective in curbing gastro-intestinal spasms, the paper stated. The compound also is expected to prove effective in curbing gastro-intestinal spasms, the paper stated.

One method of ulcer treatment in the past has been an operation to sever the vagus nerve which controls the stomach secretions and muscular contractions. The new drug, according to Cusick and Dr. Robinson, produces similar effects by blocking the vagus nerve impulses. More specifically, they explained, it is an "anticholinergic" agent, that is, a drug that acts against a chemical called acetylcholine which carries nerve impulses to the stomach muscles.

Hugh Ernst, Hubby Of Furness, Suicide

New York, April 11—(AP)—Hugh Ernst, 39-year-old radio producer and husband of actress Betty Furness, committed suicide with a shotgun in a hotel room last night.

A clipping of a newspaper Broadway column reporting that Ernst and Miss Furness were to be divorced was found in the room.

Snooping Shoppers Sample Service, Alert Salespeople

If you didn't know the Willmark, you'd think they were finicky customers. They buy over five million dollars worth of merchandise each month—and then send every item back.

The Willmarks, or the Willmark Service System, Inc., hire one thousand, full-time "shoppers" to test the performance of salespeople and service personnel in stores, hotels, ball parks—and even on toll bridges—from coast to coast.

According to an article in a national magazine, Willmark has branches in 32 major cities and serves twenty-six thousand retail business units and four hundred hotels each year. Its clients do an annual gross business in excess of twenty-four billion dollars. By reducing petty puffing, its "shoppers" save the public millions of dollars.

"Willmark's carefully trained shoppers," says the article, "dress and act like typical store customers. They shove in bargain basements, never reveal their identity to salespeople and rarely know the outcome of their reports. Their eagle eyes note everything."

On the basis of these reports, store authorities hold seminars on salesmanship, reprimand delinquent employees, or pay bonuses for politeness and patience beyond the line of duty. While staying at hotels, they turn in exhaustive appraisals of reservation clerks, bellhops, phone operators and housekeepers.

When a New England toll bridge authority suspected that its receipts were running short, Willmark investigators crossed the bridges in droves. As a result of their observations, the collection system was tightened, supervision was improved and receipts rose. The shoppers rotate from city to city so that their identity won't become known to store employees.

As for reaction by salespeople when they learn that their store has hired Willmark to test their performance, one store executive said, "Only the salesmen who antagonize customers by rudeness or keep a hand in the cashbox, have anything to lose. The others are happy to have their work recognized on the basis of Willmark scores."

Cashier Turns Back $113,519

Mound City, Ill., April 11—(AP)—A former bank cashier, facing federal and state charges of embezzling school funds has restored $113,519, his attorney announced today.

Holloway H. Melton, 41, of near-by Mounds was formally accused of embezzling $1,500 from school funds he had handled when he was a township school treasurer.

However, when charged by State's Attorney Warner Wall, the prosecutor said an audit showed $112,447 was missing from the former $4,500-a-year cashier's private and official accounts over the past ten years.

The difference between the reported audit figure and the larger amount restored was not explained.

ed immediately. The prosecutor also had explained that an Illinois statute limited prosecution only to losses occurring in the past three years.

Melton's attorney, Joe Crain, announced the restitution was agreed upon at a meeting of directors of the First State Bank of Mounds and township trustees yesterday.

Melton, a Sunday school teacher until recently, declined to comment on the announcement which his attorney made to a reporter in Melton's presence.

Crain said a company which had bonded Melton loaned him the money to complete the restitution.

Melton is free under $10,000 bond pending his appearance before a Pulaski county grand jury April 24. He also is under bond in connection with a March 21 federal grand jury indictment at Danville where he was charged with embezzling $1,500.

Report Split Over Truman's Treasury Plan

Washington, April 11—(AP)—Secretary of Treasury Snyder and Frederick J. Lawton, nominated by President Truman to be budget director, differed today over Truman's treasury reorganization plan.

Snyder said he is opposed to a provision which would place Comptroller of Currency Preston Delano under his jurisdiction.

Lawton, now assistant budget director, contended that the line of responsibility "should be clearly drawn as provided in the plan."

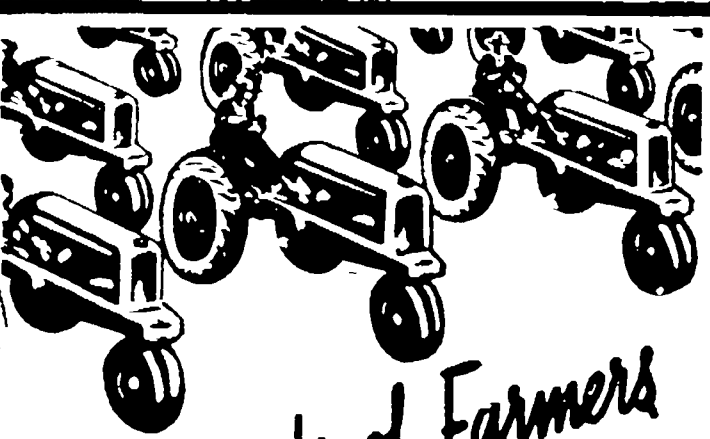

Snyder gave his views in a letter to Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) of the senate executive expenditures committee. Lawton testified personally.

The committee has started hearings on two resolutions of disapproval of the plan submitted by Senators Robertson (D-Va) and Capehart (R-Ind).

Robertson told the committee the plan would "relegate the comptroller of currency to messenger boy status."

He said national and state bank officials oppose the plan. He contended the plan would not "provide anything in the way of efficiency or economy."

The comptroller now is virtually an independent agency reporting directly to congress. The office is financed by fees from national banks.
